Time-lapse photography is the process of creating high-quality photos or videos that are automatically created over a period of time. You can have them automatically upload to social media sites such as YouTube and Instagram, or you can edit them and make them more interesting. Xolotl (band) Xolotl was an American art rock band formed in Seattle in 1998. History Xolotl was formed in early 1998 by founder Dan Miller and singer, guitarist, and keyboardist Janelle Monáe. After initially playing as a duo, Miller and Monáe recruited bass guitarist Scott Mercer to complete their lineup and began performing in earnest. Xolotl's early performances were largely instrumental, incorporating wild, loud, and psychedelic rock, funk, and jazz influences into their sound. Soon after Xolotl released their debut album In Search of Lost Time in 1999, Miller and Monáe realized the original trio of Mercer, bassist Curtis Riggs, and drummer Michael Ward was not working out. The duo then recruited keyboardist, violinist, and vocalist Gabi Porter. Xolotl's songwriting shifted, becoming more and more focused on the vocal compositions. Around this time, Xolotl became a trio with the addition of guitarist Joel Pinkard. Xolotl 82157476af
